

Investment Strategy

“A highly complex and sophisticated trading strategy is implement into the algorithm to generate outstanding and consistent profits on the forex markets.”

A trend following automated strategy that focuses on multiple currency pairs on the M30 timeframe to recognise the entry best entry and exit points, trend identifiers with inbuilt risk and reward indicators. The strategy was implemented into the automatic trading system after many years of successfully trading manually and development of the systems. The system identifies the strongest signal from all currency pairs available (35+) and only trades once cycle at a time. One cycle is focused on one pair only and no new trades are opened until the previous cycle is completed. In case any trades have drawdown the trading system manages the trades until the cycle closes in profits. The strategy and trading rules have been developed to be an optimal trading system that have been developed over many years and has been live for two years. The portfolio is operated on a high specification VPS to ensure the fastest execution and stable 24 hours trading in order not to miss any good market opportunities.

Risk Management

To keep risk at the lowest level and for optimal returns, each trade will use a maximum of 2% of the accounts balance and low drawdown techniques are in built in to the system which uses a quantitative approach that aims to generate profit from both upward and downward price movements. As the system trades only once cycle at a time, the risk level is vastly reduced when comparing to systems that trade multiple symbols simultaneously. Inbuilt risk indicators focus on reading price action and candle formation in order to react to any breakouts or retracements and the system is programmed not to execute trades during specific periods like news, economical events and weekend gaps.
