

Strategy

“The EA uses unique indicators to read market trends on more than 20 major and cross pairs to trigger buy orders on pairs at the lowest point and sell orders on pairs at the highest point.”

This unique fully automated preparatory Expert Advisor uses a complex technical analysis algorithm to analyze more than 20 currency pairs to identify market weakness and strengths and implements low volume and balanced trades for potential returns targeted at 35% gains on a monthly basis.

Risk Management

The risk management never risks more than 2% in per trade with strict take profits levels to ensure profitability is taken before unexpected market swings. The scientific examination of the markets, trends and conditions with risk management, and limited trading in high volatility and uncertain conditions, trading during these periods is limited and only occurs when the indicators dictate favorable.
